Town Criers clubs in convention in Mandan joined in the opening parade today at 10:30 a. m. There were five bands, merchants' floats, training school battalion, Indians in costume, the carnival company performers, and a large number of New Salem boosters who came labeled "We're from New Salem, the home of the Holsteins."

Among the features of the parade were the Dickinson and Minot Town Criers' bands, the Mandan "nut quartette," the Bismarck "bathing beauties" band composed of eight Bismarckians parading in bathing suits as they played, and the New Salem boosters' organization.

The fair program is to be made up from day to day in the evening. The program generally will be the same, however, with judging of exhibits in the morning and afternoon, races in the afternoon, carnival features at night and Indian dancing.

FARM BUILDING IS DESTROYED IN NIGHT FIRE

Lack of Wind Prevents Spread to Other Buildings on Birlea Ward Farm

A dairy house on the farm of Birlea Ward, near the river, northwest of the city, was destroyed by fire late Sunday night. In the building was a refrigerating plant, machine shop and light plant.

The fire burned fiercely, 125 gallons of gasoline which was stored in the building, being consumed by the flames. The dairy house is in the center of a group of several buildings, but because there was no wind the fire did not spread.

The fire was caused by an explosion of a gas engine. It was said by employees on the farm. The loss is several hundred dollars.

Birlea Ward estimates his loss at about $2,000. He said that the fire occurred when Robert Joyce entered the dairy building with a lantern. Pumes of gas exploded and Joyce was killed and had a narrow escape from serious injury.

The fire destroyed a gas engine, separator and other equipment used in a dairy building.

HIT DRY TRAIL; PUNISH WETS

JUDGE J. FRANK MAYNARD (ABOVE) AND PROSECUTING ATTORNEY H. R. LEE.

By Newspaper Enterprise
Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 29.—The worst market in the world for loafers is in Mercer county, W. Va. They're being sentenced to jail so fast here that they have to wait there to serve their terms.

For the county jail is full! When another Volstead violator is sentenced, Sheriff B. H. Hunt accepts bail from him if he can furnish it and sends for him as soon as a predecessor in prison completes his sentence.

One hundred and seventy-five liquor law indictments were returned at the last session of the grand jury. The reason for all the activity well, Prosecuting Attorney H. R. Lee and Judge J. Frank Maynard hit the dry sawdust trail at the recent Billy Sunday revival meetings here!

This morning Jack Ober, chairman of the Elks committee, received a letter from Henry Taylor, who is in Los Angeles, stating that he noticed "in the trib" that Mr. Ober was chairman of the swimming pool cleanup campaign committee. Mr. Taylor said that he wished to make a small contribution. A check for $50 was enclosed.

"Give my regards to the boys and especially to the B. P. O. E.," said Mr. Taylor.

The other day a small boy went to the office of another Elks committee member and insisted that he wanted to give $1 he had earned in garden work to the pool fund.

GERMANS NOT ENTHUSED OVER TREATY WITH U. S.

Comparing the Versailles and Berlin treaties, however, the Tagblatt, the liberal organ, arrives at the conclusion that the latter document does not represent a dictated peace but is the result of negotiations carried out by contracting parties enjoying equal rights.

Representatives of Town Criers Take Steps to Form Permanent Organization

Advertising of Resources of Entire State is One of the Organization Aims

Steps were taken by representatives of Town Criers clubs of the state, meeting in Mandan today, to form a state organization to promote advertising of the state, community advertising and to further the truth in advertising movement.

The organization convention was called to order in the Mandan Commercial club at 9 o'clock. O. B. Welch was named temporary president and Thomas Sullivan temporary secretary. W. M. It is proposed in the state organization to gather a score of Town Criers clubs in the state and to evolve, through interchange of ideas, methods of advertising the state of North Dakota as well as to benefit the various cities. The vigilance work of the Associated Advertising Clubs, with which Town Criers clubs are affiliated, has grown to such an extent that it is proposed to have the state-wide organization to aid in driving out fraudulent and untruthful advertising.

SOCIETY DANCE FIGHT RESULTS IN ONE KILLED

Officials Investigating Fatal Quarrel at Fashionable Summer Resort

CORNELL STUDENT IS HELD

Allenhurst, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Official investigation was continued today as the result of the death from a fist fight involving the belle of the annual masked ball, which forms the summer's social climax for the fashionable beach colony here. Cecil Adrian Arthur, of New York, son of Mrs. J. Charles Taite, of London, England, died as the result of a quarrel during the dance.

Salvatore Lohredo, a student at Cornell university, whose home is in Havana, Cuba, is under arrest.

The prosecution's chief witness is expected to be Mrs. John S. Suthren, of New York, who, with her husband, was Arthur's guest at the ball and was dancing with Arthur when the altercation occurred. According to Lohredo's friends he thought he recognized as a friend Mrs. Suthren, who was masked and who attracted much attention by a costume of which black silk knickerbockers were a feature. He asked her to dance and was refused. Then, according to detectives, his insistence led to the quarrel with Arthur.

The fight took place during intermission when the masquerade guests were in the grill room of the hotel.

STRIKE BALLOT IS MAILED OUT BY RAIL UNIONS

Split Occurs Over Wording of the Ballot and Trainmen Send Own

STATEMENT NOT IMPARTIAL

Trainmen Claim That Unbiased View of Situation Was Not Presented

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The apparent break in the harmony that has existed among the Big Four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America in connection with the mailing out of strike ballots to the membership was today minimized by union officials here. The strike is aimed at the wage reduction authorized by the United States railway labor board. Strike ballots were mailed out to 650,000 railroad workers yesterday and today but the vote of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen comprising about 150,000 workers went on a separate ballot. The trainmen withdrew because, their officers explained, the ballot drafted by the other four organizations "did not in our opinion contain an impartial and unbiased recitation of all that is involved nor did it convey the assurance that the wishes of the men if against working for reduced wages would determine the question and that they would be permitted to leave the service."

GASOLINE JUMPING HORSE

Secretary J. I. Rovig of the Morton County Fair has secured an added free attraction which will be shown in front of the grand stand every afternoon during the Morton County Fair, Aug. 28th, 30th, and 31st. The properties for this act consist of two platforms about sixteen feet apart with a hurdle in the center of the gap. An Overland 4 automobile with an artificial horse head mounted over the radiator, after the driver has picked up speed, ascends the nearest platform, goes through the air, over the hurdle, and alights on the far platform, thereafter continuing on to the race track. In addition to the remarkable flight through the air, the interesting part to spectators is that the platforms haven't any springs whatsoever to aid in executing the feat. According to magazine articles, this performance has created great interest wherever shown and has gone into moving pictures all over the country. Visitors to the Fair at Mandan next week will have the opportunity of viewing this "thriller" in actual performance before their eyes.

BRITISH EMBASSY STAFF EQUIPPED WITH OVERLANDS

Quick Service For Officials at Disarmament Meeting Is Assured

The representatives of Great Britain at the forthcoming conference on disarmament will to all intents have the archives of the British Embassy at their very elbows at the conference table although the embassy is more than a mile from the White House or from the other state halls where conferences may be held. The accessibility of the British records on all questions will be due to that fact that several of the staff of the British Embassy have been equipped with Overland coupes the ideal car for the busy man of affairs.

Four Overlands were purchased after a study of the economy and stamina of this light car. It was found, moreover that its easy handling and the fact that it could turn about in a narrow street without a shifting of the gears made it the most popular as a town car.

Two of the enthusiastic owners of these cars are General L. E. O. Charlton, Air Commander attached to the British Embassy and H. V. Tennant, private secretary to Lord Geddes, the British Ambassador. General Charlton uses his car in visiting the flying fields in and about Washington as he is attached to the embassy not only as a source of information for Americans on progress of aviation in England but also that he may study the methods and experiments of the United States Government.

FOOTBALL CAMP WILL BE HELD AT ISABELLE

High School Squad to Get Work-out This Week

A high school football camp is to be held this week at Lake Isabelle. Fourteen high school boys, members of last year's squad and prospective players this year, are to spend the week camping at the lake and playing football under the direction of V. H. DeBolt, principal of the high school. Between bathing suits and mole skins the players are to be given work-outs that will place them in good condition for the opening of the football season. The camp and practice was decided upon when high school athletic authorities made arrangements to schedule six or seven football games this fall. Among those who are included in the camp are Scroggins, Halloran, Brown, Moses, Burke, Kludt and others.

When the team returns to the city it will practice on grounds near the capitol and will play football games at the ball park.

Rothschiller In German Relief Aid

Dickinson, Aug. 27.—Jacob Rothschiller, former resident of the Dickinson community and for a time connected with the state immigration department as deputy field agent, has taken upon himself a new vocation. Mr. Rothschiller's new line of endeavor covers an attempt to ameliorate the unfortunate condition of the starving in his native land, Germany, and he is now busily engaged in gathering together a motley collection of the home people together with substantial subscriptions in the coin of the realm for the relief of the German people.

It is said that Mr. Rothschiller is meeting with great success in some sections of the Slope. Last week at Hebron 39 cows and heifers and nearly $500 in cash was pledged. New Salem is expected to come across with a much larger contribution. Mr. Rothschiller plans to accompany the shipment to his native land, according to reports received here.

He states that the canvass of the Slope is being made as a part of a nation-wide drive to secure dairy cattle for Germany.

GIRL SWIMS FLOODED RIVER

Indian Maiden Travels 40 Miles to Reach Lover Waiting for Her on Colorado Ranch.

Durango, Col.—Undaunted by the 40 miles which separated her home on the reservation from the ranch on which John Miller, her Navajo lover, worked, an Indian maid, ward of the United States on a reservation near Durango, Col., walked the entire distance leading a goat as gift to her betrothed.

When she reached the La Plata river it was out of bounds and there was no bridge for many miles. She staked the goat in a grassy plot, removed her clothing and swam the river.

The Navajo and his dusky sweetheart were married on the Willard Wyatt ranch after the employer of the Indian had secured a marriage license for the pair.

Mother Mouse Built Her Home With Greenbacks

While plumbers were laying a gas line into the S. W. Kiser restaurant, at Spencerville, O., they found in the corner of a dark closet a large greenish-looking paper ball. Investigation proved it to be the home of a mother mouse and her brood. Closer examination showed the ball to be made up of greenbacks of denominations from one to ten. Part of the bills were chewed up, but three one-dollar and one five-dollar bill can still be redeemed.

WHICH TELLS THE TRUTH?

WILLIAM HIGHTOWER

DORIS SHIRLEY

By Newspaper Paper Enterprise
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Who is telling the truth—the man or the woman?

This is one question police must decide in their investigation of the murder of Rev. Patrick E. Heslin, the kidnaped Catholic priest. The man is William Hightower, the woman is Doris Shirley. Both are regarded as highly important witnesses. The man presented his story as an alibi after he had told police where the body was buried. Here are their contradictory stories:

THE MAN SAYS

I took Miss Doris Shirley on a ride to San Jose the evening Rev. Heslin was kidnaped.

We arrived there about dusk and had dinner in a San Jose restaurant.

We returned about 11 o'clock and I left my car in a garage.

I introduced Miss Shirley to another young woman, who is the one who gave me a clue as to the whereabouts of Rev. Heslin's body.

THE WOMAN SAYS

I met Mr. Hightower a month ago in Salt Lake City.

We continued our acquaintance in San Francisco, but I was not in his company on the night Rev. Heslin was kidnaped.

I was in Fresno with my fiancé when I heard I was wanted as a witness in the Fresno case, and hurried to San Francisco.

I never was introduced by Hightower to the young woman who he says gave him the Heslin clue.

HUSBAND IS HER GREATEST ADMIRER

MRS. MOLLIE BJURSTEDT MALLORY

By Bob Dorman

New York, Aug. 26 Mrs. Mollie Bjurstedt Mallory's husband is a good sport.

He isn't jealous because his wife, queen of America's tennis courts, usurps all the family limelight.

Instead she's the proudest man in New York.

He's so proud of Mollie that she has to suppress his enthusiasm sometimes.

Following her sweeping victory over Mary K. Browne at Forest Hills, which again crowned her as the national champion, he was the first to rush across the courts to grasp her hand and congratulate her.

Mr. Mallory is just as anxious as his wife that she should meet Suzanne Lenglen again.

Disappointed.

It was much disappointed that Mollie herself, that was possible when Suzanne defaulted, he says.

During the match at Forest Hills

he sat in a box and led the cheering for his wife.

Mr. Mallory is a broker in New York, but side-line business when his wife is in action on the courts.

There is just one flaw in Mollie's whirlwind of victories, according to the Mallorys.

It is the empty triumph over Suzanne.

Enthusiasm.

When asked to be seated to meet Suzanne again Mollie ever lit up like a four-clouds.

Mrs. John R. Neely has been chosen head of the Washington State Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion. Born in Washington, D. C., Mrs. Neely later moved to the state of Washington where she has been active in club work of Spokane and the entire state. She is, in addition to being president of the state Legion auxiliary, head of the strong National Guard auxiliary, the mother organization and president of St. John's guild. She is the mother of five children, four sons and a daughter. One son fought with the Ninety-first division, A. E. F. Another was with the Twenty-third engineers, A. E. F. A third was an aviation instructor at Kelly Field, Texas, and Isodun, France. The youngest fought with the embattled Second division A. E. F.

"My work in the auxiliary will be a legacy from our beloved sons, who, sleeping in the sacred soil of France, have passed it on to the women of the American Legion," said Mrs. Neely. "It belongs to us by ties of blood. It means a pledge of service to the service men in the name of those they left behind. In the holding of that legacy, God helping, we will not be found wanting."

MANDAN NEWS

BUILD THREE RESIDENCES

Charles F. Ellis and Nick Reesler will build three modern bungalows on the east side of Sixth Ave. in the five hundred block, and work will be started at once with the intention of having them ready for occupancy early in the winter.

The residences will be in bungalow style with full basement and modern in every respect and will be quite an addition to this rapidly growing section. This will make six new residences on this street this year and plans are under way for two or three more homes.

TO OPERATE PRICE ELEVATOR

The Mandan Farmers Elevator Co. has taken on another elevator for operation this fall, having leased the Bingenheimer plant at Price. Manager A. P. Gray states that the Price elevator will be opened for business next Monday.

There is a fairly good crop in the vicinity of Price and Harmond, where the same company operates another elevator, and owing to the early harvest the grain is already beginning to come in in large quantities.

FATHER DIES IN SO. DAK.

Mrs. O. M. Larson was called to Mitchell, S. D., Friday evening by a telegram announcing the death of her father, Theo. Wortham, at that place. Mr. Wortham who had visited here on several occasions, was 70 years old. He had been in poor health for some months, and his death was not unexpected.

MARRIED HERE

Miss Lottie Boehm of St. Vincent and Frank Kupper of Mandan were married Saturday morning at the St. Joseph church by Rev. Fr. Clement. They were attended by Rosaline and George Kupper, brother and sister of the groom. They will make their home in Mandan.

CONLEY-HUFF NEPTIALS

At the St. Joseph church Saturday morning Aug. 20 Miss Catherine Conley of Appollonia, Wis., and John J. Huff of Sanger, N. D., were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Clement. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Tourtiotte of Sanger.

J. O. Henderson and his granddaughter, Miss Helen Skinner of Madison, Wis., and Dr. F. C. Henderson of Stoughton, Wis., arrived in the city and will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Henderson during the fair. Miss Skinner will make Mandan her home this winter and will enter the junior classes at the Mandan high school. Dr. and Mrs. Henderson of Jamestown motored to Mandan yesterday and will visit here during the week.

Supt. of the city schools, C. L. Love returned last evening from Dickinson where he has been teaching during the summer courses of the Dickinson State Normal school. Mr. Love has been acting superintendent of the school during the absence of S. T. May at intervals during the summer.

Unemployment acute in New York City. Yet savings bank accounts there increased $110,000,000 in the first six months of this year.

That's despite wage cuts and withdrawal of savings by those out of work.

Proving an increase in thrift.

WORKING NOW

The sweeping changes in social conditions wrought by the war in Europe are illustrated in the news item from Vienna which tells of 47 wives and widows of former ministers of state of Austria who are now earning their living sewing and embroidering underwear.

DIAMONDS

Artificial diamonds that look so real that only experts can tell the difference are being made by French, German and Swiss manufacturers.

And it's one reason why there has been such a slump in the genuine diamond market, according to Holland reports.

Those who like to flash jewels are buying the nearly perfect imitations because they are much cheaper and flash just as gorgeously.

HARDING

President Harding has his hands more than full. So the reorganization committee of Congress may recommend that he be given an executive assistant to relieve him of the drudgery of small detail.

Are congressmen really anxious to make the president's task lighter?

If so, stop pestering him with piffling quarrels over party patronage!

SPORTS

Two million Americans now play golf — one in every 53—according to the makers of golf sticks.

The wood used in our golf sticks, baseball bats and other sporting appliances is 25,000,000 feet a year. Hickory tops the list.

A nation that goes in for sports so heartily that it requires that much equipment, is building up powerful physiques for future generations.

Out door sport is the antidote for the poison of city life.

TAX DODGERS

Thirty days in jail for Joseph Schwartz and Harry Sultzer, New York furriers. They pleaded guilty to dodging the luxury tax. Nothing new about that. The new feature is the jail sentence.

It wouldn't take many such sentences to make certain corporations, wealthy men and their cunning accountants and lawyers to think twice before trying to beat the government.

Law is respected when it has teeth—if the teeth really bite.

FOR EVERY WOMAN

Whether or not the women of the world succeeded in getting representation on the Washington disarmament conference delegations they are going to have a chance to express their desire for world peace in a way that cannot but be effective.

The National Women's Trade Union League of America has initiated a world-wide demonstration by women for disarmament, to be held on Armistice Day, the day that the Washington conference opens.

It is expected that millions of women in every country in the world will participate in the demonstration, the details of which are yet to be worked out.

The purpose as expressed by Mrs. Raymond Robbins, the president of the league, is "to strengthen the governments in their desire to disarm by giving unequivocal expression of the women of the world."

This is a call to duty that should challenge the interest of every woman, however humble her station in life.

LIVE AND LEARN

A New York gas company has been turned down by the public service commission on its request to raise rates from $1.15 to $1.50 per thousand and to increase its minimum charge from 40 cents to $1 per month.

The investigation conducted by the commission showed that the existing rates yielded 7 1/2 per cent net profit on investment in 1920 and that the profit in 1921 will be greater.

The New York public seems to have found a way to protect itself against the public utility gouging.

There is a lesson in this for every other American community.

HORRORS!

The women of France are beginning to realize that "equality of the sexes" has its drawbacks.

There has been an alarming increase in beards and mustaches among women, and French doctors put the blame upon cigaret smoking and alcohol drinking.

COMFORT

Men in Paris discarded the starched collar during a recent heat wave. It's gone for good. Soft collars from now on, say French haberdashers.

This will please Tom Edison, the inventor.

Edison says his good health is due to his never wearing tight collars, tight shoes, belts or anything that interferes with blood circulation.

MUSIC

The oldest piano in existence is exhibited at the Metropolitan Museum in New York. It was made 199 years ago, in 1722, by Christofori, inventor of the pianoforte.

Doubtless, it was the marvel of its day.

But wouldn't the people of 1722 have gaped if they could have seen a modern phonograph!

Wonder what kind of new musical instruments they'll have 199 years hence?

BOOZE

The battle between the wets and the dries is raging more or less fiercely all over the world.

Even Russia and Germany, faced as they are with the most vital political, financial and social problems, are not immune.

A recent sitting of the German cabinet, discussing such important questions as Silesia and reparations, was interrupted to take up the question of the repeal of the wartime regulation closing cafes at 11:30 p. m.

The regulation was abolished by a small majority vote after long debate, and each state government will now make its own regulations.

In Russia the liquor question is closely bound up with government finance. Under the pressure of revenue necessity the soviet rulers have amended the dry laws to permit the manufacture and sale of wines made from grapes, fruit or raisins, containing not more than 14 per cent of alcohol. The traffic will be very heavily taxed and is expected to yield a large revenue.

Vodka is still taboo in Russia, although it is problematical how long the soviet regime will resist the temptation to restore it for the sake of its revenue possibilities.

Doubtless the governor of Illinois has found that he can attend to his official business while out on bail better than while resisting arrest under claim of immunity.

3,000,000 YEARS OLD

A peculiar little animal is discovered in Venezuela by scientists from the Field Museum, Chicago. They call it caenolestes. It's about six inches long, and looks like a rat.

The caenolestes is the only form of animal life that has existed for 3,000,000 years without changing its shape, size or habits. It's the same today as its ancestors were in the Age of Fossils.

It has seen giants, like the dinosaurs, come and go. The giants vanished, turned to stone, became extinct hundreds of thousands of years ago.

Why did the weak little caenolestes survive? Because, say scientists, it lived the simple life.

The caenolestes, as it went serenely on its way, saw strange changes take place in animals as nature worked out her law of evolution.

It saw monkeys become men, if you believe some scientists.

It saw the horse, once small as a cat, grow large as nature prepared it to work for man.

It saw the mammoth shed its hair and become an elephant as the Ice Age ended and the climate grew warmer.

It saw adventurous fish turn fins into wings and fly off as birds.

It saw the giraffe grow a long neck to reach the tender twigs and leaves in treetops.

But the caenolestes went ahead without changing, says a recent book by Dr. Wilfred H. Osgood, of the Field Museum.

"The secret of its success is in the simplicity of its requirements. It has never gone to extremes, never developed any very special tastes or peculiarities. It never tried any experiments, never went off on a tangent and never took any chances."

Conservatives and devotees of the Simple Life will approve of that.

But, as Osgood points out, the caenolestes, by always taking the easiest and safest way, accomplished mere existence and nothing more.

It was the conservative, the reactionary, the old-fogy of the animal world.

Other forms of life took a chance. They experimented. They tried new things. They roamed the earth.

And the result? They evolved into higher types, with varying degrees of intelligence.

There you have the key to progress—the key being dissatisfaction with things as they are, and a never-ending experimentation to find something better.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Chris Crow flew over to the cornfield as soon as the moon got dark.

He didn't waste time "Ohing" and "Aching" like Cob Coon. He was an old hand at it and knew that while it was true that one should make hay while the sun shines, it is equally wise to go after corn while the moon's dark. So off he sneaked.

He knew where the best corn grew, also the biggest ears, and in about two shakes of a bear's tail, he was hanging away the leaves off a nice fat ear with his long sharp bill, to get at the sweet kernels beneath.

At last he reached the delicious stuff and took a bite. "Yum! That's good!" said he with his mouth full and dug his bill in again.

But what was that? A faint rustling that came nearer and nearer. Chris couldn't see, but he could hear like a telephone. He sat very still and waited. Yes, sure as he lived, something was coming down the field straight toward him, steadily, surely, swiftly.

Chris stiffened. A thought came into his head—fear. He had told it to Nancy and Nick, you know, when he sent his order for a dark night up to the weatherman's star. It was the Scaru-Crow that he was afraid of, the person with a gun who stood so tirelessly all day long watching for him.

What if—Chris' heart nearly stopped beating—what if Scaru-Crow had seen him sneak into the cornfield an come after him?

The quiet sound came nearer still and to Mr. Crow's dismay, stopped right under the very stalk he was sitting on. The next thing he knew something or someone was climbing straight up toward him.

HARDING, REALLY IS A DEMOCRAT

If You Doubt It, Read This Line of Presidential Anecdotes

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Washington, Aug. 29. President Harding has become a rival of Abraham Lincoln as a source of presidential anecdotes.

For 50 years Lincoln has supplied elementary textbooks with scores of personal, human stories. Now comes Harding—like Lincoln, the son of common people, reared in a rural community, democrats—with a small "d."

And, like Lincoln, Harding has the kind of personality that breeds anecdotes. Here are some:

THE MAKE UP RULE
Reaching in his pocket for a coin the president accidentally drew forth a thin, worn piece of metal.

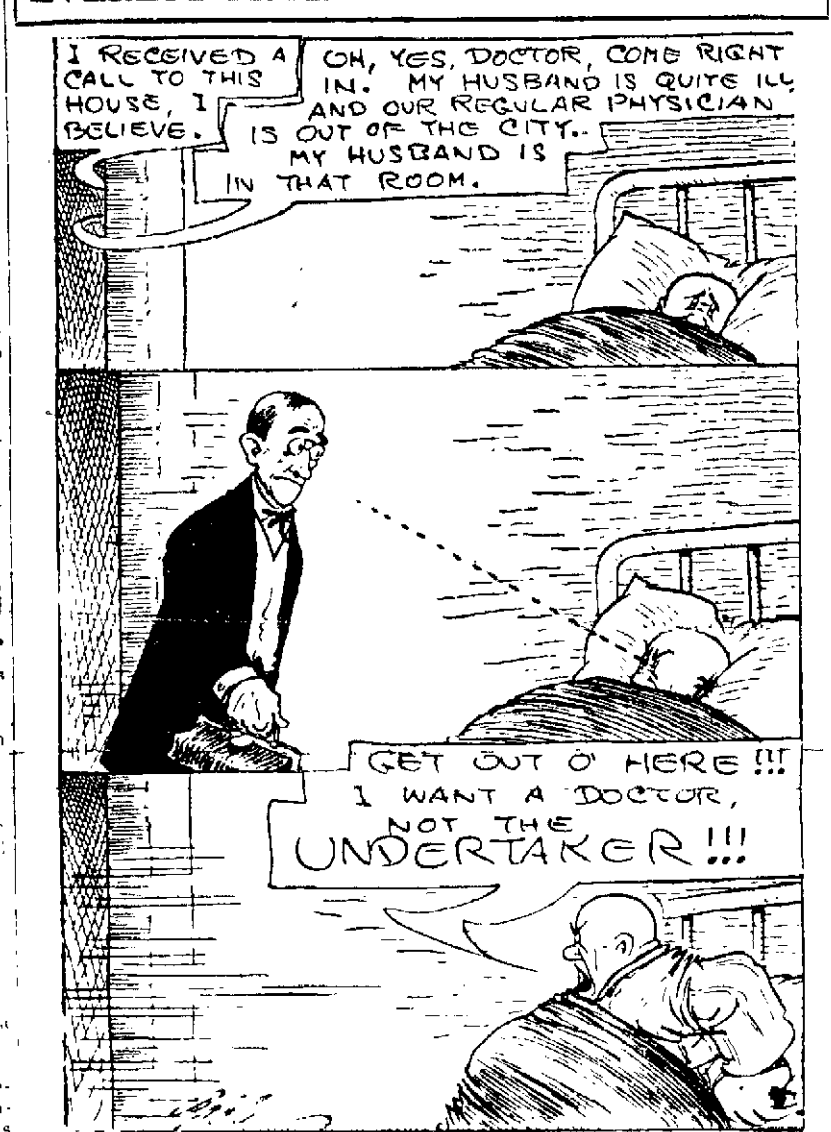

"My make-up rule," he explained. "My guests were puzzled until the president explained that a make-up rule is a printer's tool of all work. The printer uses it to pick up type, to scrape dried ink from type—even to open bottles and clean his finger nails."

"I'm never fully dressed unless I have my rule," the president said. "It's the badge of my profession."

The Golf Tournament
The president was asked to present a cup at a newspaper men's golf tournament.

"That might put me in an embarrassing position," he said, "I might

Only Weighed 76 Pounds But Now Weighs Over 100 And Is Gaining Every Day

"Before I began taking Tanlac I only weighed 76 pounds, I now weigh over one hundred and am gaining every day," said Miss LaFue Davis, of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

I bought my first bottle of Tanlac at Gas City, Ind., and it helped me so much that I continued using it. I have always been very delicate and suffered a great deal from stomach trouble and indigestion. I rarely ever had any appetite and could not eat or sleep anything. I felt that I only weighed 76 pounds and was so thin I looked perfectly white. This condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac.

"Oh, I feel so different now. Even my complexion is improved. My appetite is good and I can hardly get enough to eat. Tanlac is simply grand and I can truthfully say that it is the only medicine that has ever done me any good."

"Tanalac is sold by leading druggists everywhere."

have to present the cup to myself. Of course, I'm going to play. You can't bar me. I'm a newspaper man, am I not?"

The Senate Dinner

After Harding had delivered his message to the Senate on the soldiers' bonus, he attended a luncheon in the capitol with several of his political and senatorial colleagues.

"Who's going to pay the check," asked one.

"Let's flip pennies for it," said the president.

They did. And Senator J. W. Wadsworth of New York had it.

The president was reading the morning papers while taking a railway trip. As he finished each one he folded it up carefully. Then he gazed steadily out of the window.

"I'm watching for a chance to give these papers to a tower man," he said. "Those fellows get mighty lonesome out here all alone, and they'll appreciate something to read."

Helps Painters
A group of painters were making the White House white.

"Let me show you how to do that," said the president, seizing a brush. "I used to paint as a boy," he explained. "Painted a whole school-house."

Later as he was washing his hands in the executive office he said:

"That's more fun than I've had since I've been president."

White House Open
An old lady from a distant state stood looking at the White House. The president gave orders that she be taken through the whole building. Then she was brought to meet him.

"I want the people to consider the White House as their own," he said. "I want it to be open especially to those who don't often get a chance to see fine things."

President as Shopper
The president drove quietly to a store in the heart of Washington's business section, dismounted and went shopping. He selected a gift for one of the executive household.

"I haven't had much chance to shop since I've been president," he remarked. "That's one drawback of the presidency. I used to do all the family marketing—and I can drive a pretty keen bargain."

The Owl Story
A family of owls took up their abode on the White House lawn. The president summoned a jury of children from a nature study class to pass on the fate of the night-hooters. The children decided the owls should stay. They're still there.

In addition to this special feature one of O'Henry's famous comedy's "Thimble Thimble" will be presented with an exceptionally fine cast. These clever little comedies are a high class comedy feature of the Monday, Tuesday show at the Rex.

TO ENLARGE CLUB
Monday, Aug. 29. A contest of the stockholders of the Minor Country Club was held at the Elks Home Monday evening. One hundred and thirty men have subscribed for a season's work of stock each and for an is-hole course within a few miles of Minot eventually, when they will erect a beautiful, commodious club house with verandas, dining room, kitchenette, ball room, shower baths, fire places, etc. There are to be tennis courts and even a section will be allotted to the devotees of "harnyard golf," otherwise known as the horseshoe pitchers. The members of the Minor Country Club will have a place for their traps in connection.

Norman Elison was chairman of Monday night's meeting and Dr. R. W. Perce was secretary. The trustees are Norman Elison, R. E. Barron and H. M. Wilson. A committee is now working on the plan of incorporating for $50,000. It is presumed that nine or eleven directors will be elected.

Pierre, S. D., Aug. 29.—Corn will average a little more than 31 bushels to the acre in South Dakota with 20 the minimum for any one county and 50 the maximum. Oats are averaging 23 5-17 bushels; barley 19 1-2; rye 15 3-8; winter wheat 15 4-13; spring wheat 9 1-2 and flax 7 3-8.

Thus do county agents of the state unofficially summarize the results of the 1921 season, each reporting for his own individual county and the average taken for the whole. Lack of rain in June, accompanied by unreasonable heat and parching winds, is said to have been the chief factor in reducing the small grain crop in all parts of the state.

These unofficial figures show winter wheat and rye to be the two small grain crops averaging slightly in excess of the official yields prepared by the United States department of agriculture for the last five year period. Quality of both these grains is said to be from good to excellent. Early barley, spring wheat and oats on the other hand are from one to two years below the five year average, with the former suffering the most at about half the yield of the other two. The average of 1921 showed a yield of 29.4 bushels per acre during the last five years, nearly 10 cents more than bushels less than the official estimate for this year.

Thirty mile from this city two prospectors in June snatched approximately $1200 worth of gold, obtained from the north, and during their sojourn on the one site realized $5000 worth of precious metal.

Precious stones are also available. During June large deposits of sapphires were discovered in the basalt country of New South Wales. Two syndicates are prospecting the field and have obtained some exceptionally fine gems.

One of the finest pearls in the world found in Australian peeling waters was a gem larger than a sparrow's egg recently exhibited by James Clark, a Queensland farmer and pearl diver.

Melbourne, Aug. 29.—Prospecting for gold is one of the most alluring charms of life in Australia. It may be enjoyed only a few miles beyond the boundaries of the larger cities and there are still many eager adventurers on the trail to surface gold. This is attested by their frequent success.

Only a small staff will be needed to run the mill, according to Mr. Williamson. Although first scheduled to start operations August 1, delay in equipping the building with the latest machinery will set back the opening to about September 15. Mr. Williamson said. Shortly after the first part of October, results of experiments with carbonized wheat will be announced, the manager believed, and several weeks later, testing of small lots of special grades will be begun.

The mill, which was built out of surplus funds from state grain inspection and weighing, will have a maximum capacity of about 100 barrels a day. Every milling and laboratory device known to the trade is located on the floors and full basement of the building. Machinery and equipment was purchased after the legislature appropriated $50,000 for such expenditures, and $25,000 for a revolving fund or working capital. Flour milled will be sold to state institutions, and it is expected by Mr. Williamson that the mill will be self-supporting.

Any farmer, elevator or grain concern may have his wheat tested at the mill for a nominal small fee. Mr. Williamson explained. To eliminate needless experiments and conduct research work only when actually desired, it was proposed to charge a small amount, the manager said.

Our only hope is that the farmer benefits him from our efforts and expense in making the tests, and makes good use of the results by sowing fault for the relief demanded in the complaint.

A FROCK THAT COMBINES NEW FALL IDEAS

BY MARIAN HALE.
New York, Aug. 29. The blue and the gray seem to be permanently and enthusiastically reconciled. This popular combination still holds popularity. The Louis Grauer frock worn by Martha Mansfield combines all of the new elements of fall fashions. The dress has a full skirt, with its concession to length in drapes at the side. There is, as you see, no big sleeve. And there is the novelty collar.

What Is Success?
C. W. Nash writes: "Real success is the realization of an ambition to build or to accomplish something worth while and lasting. It is the achievement itself which brings the greater reward of satisfaction, not the money it may amass."

Superstition Concerning Caul.
The caul is a thin membrane found encompassing the head of some children when born, and it is considered a good omen for the children themselves. This superstition probably became widespread about the time of the Emperor Antoninus Pius. When he was born he had a band of membrane around his forehead in the shape of a diadem, and he attributed all his good fortune to this caul, and this started the sale of them. A few sailors carrying them who then happened to be saved from shipwreck diverted the superstition toward mariners.

BIG ROAD PLAN FOR MINNESOTA

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 29.—Minnesota this year is launching an enlarged public highway development program under the Babcock Plan, formulated by Charles M. Babcock, state commissioner of highways, and adopted under an amendment to the state constitution by a vote of 526,938 to 199,603. Federal aid forthcoming on the former basis, Minnesota will have available this year approximately $26,333,000 for state trunk and county local road improvements. Commissioner Babcock has just returned from Washington where he fought for federal highway legislation for farm-to-market roads as provided in the Minnesota program. The 1921 highway fund estimate is exclusive of paving and other street improvements being made by cities and towns through local expenditures. Previous to the adoption of the Babcock Plan, all public highway maintenance and improvements in Minnesota were made by county and city authorities. The Minnesota Highway department acted largely in an advisory capacity, especially on federal and state projects. Highway funds represented the federal aid apportionment of $2,840,000 a year, and the proceeds of a 1-mill tax apportioned in aid to counties and on local levies, and last year made a grand total of about $15,000,000.

The Babcock Plan, adopted by constitutional amendment, transfers to the state about 7,000 miles of arterial or trunk highways for future maintenance and improvement. It provides that an onerous tax may be levied, in lieu of other taxes, on motor vehicles and that the proceeds, together with any federal funds apportioned, shall be used for the improvement of the trunk highway system. Trunk highways listed in the constitutional amendment extend into every section of the state, through the important cities and towns and the regions making Minnesota known as a state of ten thousand lakes. Adoption of the constitutional amendment followed a vigorous campaign directed by a semi-public corporation which had branches in every community in the state and raised for its support approximately $100,000 in contributions. Minnesota newspapers were given the lion's share of credit for the success of the campaign and continue to co-operate with the highway department toward maintaining public interest in good roads now that the new plan is being launched. The amendment became effective Jan. 1, 1921, but because of many administrative problems presented the legislature did not provide the department machinery until April 25. After extensive investigation and study, the one-man system of highway administration was adopted in preference to the commission or board plan. Highway statutes were completely recodified. A schedule of motor vehicle taxes was worked out, owners paying in lieu of other taxes and licenses, except wheelage levies in some cities, 2 per cent annually on the basis of the factory price listed, with depreciation allowances of 25 per cent after 3 years and 50 per cent after five years, and tax minimums of $12 on pleasure cars and $15 on trucks. Nearly $6,000,000 this year is expected under the schedule given. In the first three months of road building under the new plan, the following was accomplished: About 6,200 of the 7,000 miles of trunk routes temporarily designed and taken over by the state for maintenance.

An "army" of 1,216 patrolmen covering the system to smooth temporary routes until permanent improvements can be extended. Another big maintenance force, equipped with 150 trucks and 50 tractors—surplus war equipment rebuilt for road work—shaping up highways for patrolmen where necessary. Office and field forces increased from a small number to nearly 3,000 employees, exclusive of hundreds on contract work. Administration expense held to less than 7 per cent of total expenditure. Approximately $8,000,000 of new construction for 1921 completion in about 75 scattered sections placed under contract at prices from 15 to 50 per cent below 1920 levels charged counties.
